

HANFORD RESIGNS FROM THE BENCH UNDER CHARGES

Seattle Judge Had Been Under Fire of a Congressional Investigating Committee.

SEATTLE, July 22.—United States District Judge Cornelius H. Hanford, whose conduct on the bench has been under investigation for nearly a month by a sub-committee of the House Judiciary Committee, telegraphed his resignation today to President Taft. Judge Hanford gives ill-health as the reason for his resignation.

Various charges have been presented against the Judge tending to show him unfit to sit on the bench and much testimony has been taken. The hearings in his case had been practically closed and the Congressmen ready to return to Washington to make their report.

The original charge against Judge Hanford was that he cancelled the citizenship of a Seattle man because he was a Socialist. This opened the way to a general inquiry into his doings and standings. His impeachment was discussed.

FOR BRYAN IN 1916.

WILLIAMSON, W. Va., July 22.—William Jennings Bryan was unanimously endorsed for President in 1916 by the Fifth District nominating convention in session here. The resolution, introduced by W. N. Cole, passed unanimously.

LONDON PLAYHOUSE SECURED BY BRADY FOR LENGTHY TERM

New York Successes Are to Be Produced by Him in English Theatre.

William A. Brady, the American theatrical manager, was a busy man during the stay of himself and his wife in Europe, and he will be a much busier man during the coming season. He secured a number of successful English plays for production in this country, and arranged for the production of a number of American plays on the other side. He organized a company of his own in London and entered into a working arrangement for a theatre for the presentation of the New York successes. Speaking of his plans, Mr. Brady said:

"Beginning in November Grace George (Mrs. Brady) will open for the season at the Playhouse. By an arrangement with the Shuberts she will appear in the Chinese play by Volmouler, produced by Prof. Reinhardt in Berlin last season under the title 'Turandot.' It created a tremendous sensation. Sir George Alexander has the English rights.

"It was his intention to produce the play in London early in October, but the English version which is to be used by him and Miss George has not been finished, and it will not receive its London reproduction until January. The play may not be ready for the opening of Miss George's season, in which event she has in hand a new play by Edward Sheldon and Harrison Rhodes. Another is nearing completion by Avery Hopwood. A third is entitled 'The Woman of It,' by a noted English dramatist, and still another—'The Folly of It All,' by Horace Collins.

PLAYHOUSE IS TO HAVE VARIED REPERTOIRE.

"During her season at the Playhouse, Miss George will carry out a plan for last year which had to be abandoned by the extraordinary success of 'Bought and Paid For.' It has long been our aim to establish a regular repertoire season at my theatre, alternating new modern plays with the accepted classics. During my trip I effected a long-time agreement for the New Theatre. I have organized a company with Alan Ayresworth at its head. 'Ready Money,' to which I have secured the English rights, will be produced at the New Theatre about the middle of August, about the same time it will open at the Maxine Elliott Theatre with the original organization. Mr. Montgomery, the author, is now in London to superintend the staging of the comedy.

The latter will be followed by 'Bought and Paid For.' 'Ready Money' proves the success we anticipated. It will be removed to the Criterion to make way for 'Thought and Paid For.' My understanding with Sir Charles Wyndham calls for continuous productions of several American successes, and I am prepared to negotiate for the English rights of a number of well known hits in this country, the properties of other managers.

"From Frank Curzon I have secured the American rights of 'The Dust of Egypt,' produced last season by Gerald Du Maurier. I have taken 'Shan Magan' from George H. Jessop. This is an Irish play in which the Messrs. Shubert and myself will star George Macfarlane. We have also contracted for the production of Rutherford Mayne's 'The Drone.' This is a pretty Irish play whose name will be changed for America.

MANY NEW ENGLISH PLAYS ARE COMING.

"I have also secured Justin Hunter McCarty's 'Charlemagne the Conqueror,' in which part Robert Mantell is to appear in early autumn with a special star cast. Mr. Mantell will also appear as the Cardinal in Tennyson's 'Becket,' arranged for the Shuberts to produce. George Bernard Shaw's much discussed 'Fanny's First Play,'

"Mr. Barker and his company, headed by Lilian McCarthy and Henry Ainley, will produce Shakespeare along the lines of Max Reinhardt. 'Macbeth,' 'A Winter's Tale' and 'Twelfth Night,' will be included in the repertoire. The company will also present 'The Volsey Inheritance,' 'Waste and Prunella,' or, 'Love in a Dutch Garden.' "Little Women," which met with such great favor, will probably follow 'Thought and Paid For' at the Playhouse. My daughter, Alice Brady, will leave Gilbert & Sullivan to play Meek, which she originated. The new Forty-eighth Street Theatre will open in August with Broadhurst and Mark Swan's new farce, 'Just Like John.' I will produce a number of American plays in New York this season.

"There is a movement on foot to enforce the recent copyright enactment of the British Government in Canada."

"MAKE UP," COURT'S ADVICE

Edward Kline, fifty years old, who keeps a wine store in Winfield, Queensboro, who is being sued for a separation by his twenty-five-year-old wife, was in the Brooklyn Supreme Court today before Justice Benedict. The wife charges intoxication and demands the custody of her three-year-old son. This is Kline's second marriage. He is the father of sixteen children, two of whom were lost with his first wife in the Slocum disaster. Three years later Kline surprised his friends by marrying a girl of the neighborhood, twenty years old, Miss Irene Vogel, who became stepmother to several children as old as herself.

The Court asked the attorneys for both sides to try peacemaking and gave a week for the attempted reconciliation.

Women Are Always Glad to Hear of Economies at GIMBELS For They Are Really Worth While

Sometimes it is a temptation for women not to disclose where they get their modish clothes at economical prices, but we are sure that those who share in this Sale will be so enthusiastic that they will not refrain from talking about it.

We were going to say "wait and see," but, on second thought, it is not advisable, because you may miss some of the good things. For instance, if you have been wanting several little handmade French lingerie frocks, but did not want to make a large outlay, here is your opportunity, as there are some at $12.50, that were $17.50 to $22.50. Others at $19.50 to $23.50, that were $37.50 to $65. Also

Au Revoir to All of This Season's COATS for Women

Every Kind, from Motoring Dusters to Paris Model Evening Wraps, in This Clearance—At Fractions of Former Conservative Prices

"The most interesting collection of Coats I have ever seen!" a woman told us a little while ago. "Indeed, there are so many kinds and all so distinctive that I would like to have at least six or seven!" And it is the remainder of that very assemblage of Coats and Wraps that we are now disposing of at ridiculously small prices.

Generally speaking, there are Coats for traveling, motoring and street wear, also for afternoon and evening functions.

Prices range all the way from $4.50 for Motoring Dusters that were $9.50, up to $50 for Silk Evening Wraps that were $250—numerous prices between.

So that you will know what to expect, we shall enumerate the materials—linen, gloria, mohair, serge, whipcord, mixed wools, polo fabrics, satin, taffeta, bengaline, chiffon and charmeuse. Third Floor

White DRESS LINENS At Lower Prices

Every woman who knows the excellence of our stocks of Dress Linens will wonder how we can make prices any lower than they have been; but the July Clearance doesn't stop at the choicest and finest, and most-wanted fabrics. That's the only reason for this good luck:

Go to the famous shops of Paris or London, or to any other store on this side of the Atlantic, and you will not find Blouses of such value-giving quality! These Blouses reflect (and in many instances are copies of) costly French models.

These are Blouses that have been made to our order—even though the majority owe their little prices to the fact that they are made from left-over materials.

These are Blouses of daintiness in every detail, from the tiny stitches that join their seams and the clear pearl buttons that fasten them either in back or front, to the fine batistes, lawns, marquisettes, voiles, and all-over embroideries of which they are made, and the attractive laces and embroideries with which they are trimmed.

Dainty describes every one, whether it is trimmed with profusion of lace embroidery, or if it is semi-fanciful or the essence of simplicity. Many of the latter have Robespierre collars and double-collar effects. Third Floor
